Some of our citizens, among others, suffered at the hands of pickpockets at the Winchester Fair on Wednesday. We learn of losses by Dr. Owings, Mr. Harrison Anderson, and Mrs. Thos. E. Woodward. A number of watches were stolen from ladies.

Work upon the S. V. R. R. is still progressing. The bridge over the crossing of the main stem of the B & O R. R., near Duffield's, will soon be completed, and in the meantime a large force is busy finishing up the completed track—in all eleven or more miles—from the B & O. crossing to the Clarke line.

The recent arrival of an additional "wee boarder" at the City Hotel has given a new impetus to the already proverbial hospitality of Mr. Speese, and accordingly we were invited, in company with several other invited guests, to dine there yesterday. The tables were graced with oyster pie, roasted duck, lamb—and goodness knows what all. Suffice it to say that a bountiful repast was spread, which could but be enjoyed by all present. May the generous host of the "City" long live to preside over his deservedly popular hotel, and we to chronicle other such an agreeable event.

COUNTY ITEMS.—From the Shepherdstown Register we copy the following items:

Rev. Mr. Hubbard, Rector of the Episcopal Church of this town, returned home this week after a tour of several months in Europe.

There will be a meeting of the County Council at Wiltshire's school-house, on Saturday, the 26th inst. The Hon. D. C. Keenon, of Ohio, will deliver an address there.

On Thursday evening of last week, Dudley Pendleton, little son of Prof. D. D. Pendleton, near town, met with quite a severe accident by falling off a horse, resulting in a contusion of the scalp and a slight concussion of the brain.

Major Ives, chief engineer of the Cumberland Valley Railroad, with his corps, is now engaged in locating a route for the extension of the S. V. R. R. from this town to Bedford, Berkeley county, there to connect with the Cumberland Valley road.

On Monday last Mr. John Davis, of this town, and Mr. John Walper, of Walper's X Roads, got into an altercation, resulting in Mr. Davis striking Mr. Walper above the left eye with a "napping hammer," the blow fractured the outside table of the skull, and also produced a severe flesh wound; also causing Mr. W. to suffer severely from hemorrhages, caused by the severing of an artery.

On Saturday last W. M. Morrison, living several miles below town, and a young man named Butler Eagle, son of John M. Eagle, got into an altercation which resulted in young Eagle shooting Morrison in the left shoulder with a pistol. Eagle was arrested on Tuesday morning by officer Cameron, and brought before Justice Daniels at Duffields, who held him to bail for his appearance at the next session of the grand jury. We learn that the wound in the shoulder of Mr. Morrison is but a slight one.

CIRCUIT COURT.—The October term of the Jefferson Circuit Court—Judge Jno. Blair Hoge on the bench—began on Tuesday. The following gentlemen composed the Grand Jury, which was summoned for the second day of the term:

Col. Jno. Thos. Gibson, Foreman; C. T. Butler, M. W. Burr, Esrom Siler, I. E. Strider, E. C. Watson, Wm. C. Ramey, Lawrence Montague, John H. Shewbridge, Jesse Graham, Thos. W. Beale, Abram Harris, James M. Ransom.

The Grand Jury was only in session a short time, and brought but one indictment—The State vs. Charles Andrews and James Skayne; Grand Larceny. No petit jury was summoned. The Court is proceeding with the Chancery Docket, and a special term will be held for the trial of Common Law causes.

CHURCH MATTERS.—A revival of religion has been in progress at the Methodist Protestant Church, Harper's Ferry.

The protracted meeting at the Methodist Church in Charlestown has been attended with much interest during the past week, a number of conversions resulting. A dozen or more persons were admitted to the membership of the Church on Sunday.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered at the Presbyterian Church, on Sunday morning. The usual services began on Friday morning, and the Rev. J. R. Graham, of Winchester, preached excellent sermons on Friday night and Saturday morning and night. Five accessions to the communicants of the church were received. The financial exhibit of the church, as reported before a church meeting on Saturday, shows it to be in a better condition than for some time past.

A CIRCUS IN A GALE OF WIND.—A correspondent of the New York Clipper sends the following to that paper:

Sells Brothers' Seven-elephant Show was in Tyrone, Pa., Oct. 9. About 1 o'clock P. M., as the people were gathering for the afternoon performance, a terrible storm of wind struck the circus pavilion and blew it down, taking the top off in the whirlwind. The elephants and camels were taken out very much frightened, and their bellowing, in connection with the howls of the animals in the cages, caused a perfect pandemonium. At this juncture the large black bear that had been used in the procession, chained on the top of the cage, also broke loose, and, as it made its way out, the already frightened crowd of people rushed in every direction for safety. The bear bit a boy, and then made for the mountains, but was captured by the circus people just as he was entering the wood. A few yards more of a start and it would have escaped. As it was, the chain it had around its neck gave the only chance of its being captured alive. During the excitement, which was worth ten circus exhibitions, people fled, horses broke loose and ran among the crowd, and pieces of program, chains and the top of the cage, also broke loose, and, as it made its way out, the already frightened crowd of people rushed in every direction for safety.
